Public Boards Guidelines and Terms

The public boards are places to share your own work to other Scrintal users and non-users. Use of the public boards is subject to Scrintal's Privacy Policy, and Terms of Use. By using the public boards you also agree to abide by and follow these Public Boards Guidelines and Terms ("Public Board Guidelines"). Any terms used below shall have the same meaning as defined in these agreements.

Ownership and Intellectual Property Rights

If you are a creator of a public board, you own and retain ownership rights to any User Content or Customer Data (as applicable) included in the public boards you make available; provided that at all times Scrintal shall retain full ownership of the Services and any and all functionality that you use to generate such public board.

Please respect the intellectual property rights of others and do not post anything that you don't have the rights to post. By making a public board available, you represent and warrant that you have the rights and/or permission to make such a public board available to others.
